Based in Retford - although there is an opportunity to work from home.

16-20 hours per week

Hourly rate + bonuses

We are looking for an individual to join our small creative / marketing team and assist us with our own in-house email marketing campaigns and new business development.

The Role:

- Managing email campaigns and researching business data.
- Monitor, report and analyse results to improve performance & prospects using Mailchimp & Google Analytics.
- Work closely with the M.D. and assist in developing new business opportunities.
- Become fluent in Chameleons' services and expertise.

The Person:

- Experience with Mailchimp is preferred but not essential.
- Google Analytics experience is preferred but not essential.
- A strong working knowledge of internet research and databases is essential.
- The successful person must have a good attention to detail, be well organised, flexible and above all else trustworthy.
